Pastoral Care Policy

Purpose of Pastoral Care

The purpose of Pastoral Care in Euston Street is to make sure that pupils are receiving the right care, challenge and opportunity that will support their learning and attainment. Pastoral care is always a priority for our school community. It plays a crucial role in the development of the ethos of the school. This ethos is based on Christian values with emphasis on the intellectual, moral, emotional, physical and spiritual development of each pupil.

The Pastoral Care policy supports the school mission, vision and values.

Mission

'To work together for excellence in: our learning; our school; our community; and our future'.

Our purpose therefore is to be an excellent school. We continually strive for excellence in every area of school life. To achieve this aim we must always have the right school vision and values and these must be at the heart of all that we do, including our School Development Plan.

Vision

In order to achieve excellence in each aspect of school life, our vision is:

'To create a safe, happy learning community. A community where together, we inspire and equip our pupils so that they fulfil their potential, use their talents and follow their dreams now and always.'

Values

We believe that our school is a place where the child is at the centre.

'We value kindness, integrity, hard work and mutual respect.'

Aims of Pastoral Care

In setting personal development as central to children's education in Euston Street, we value the partnerships between home, school and other bodies.

Central to providing effective Pastoral Care that is appropriate, meaningful and developmental, is having a clear vision that is suited to the needs of our pupils and staff. The vision we aspire to is underpinned by the following aims and values:

- Teach individual responsibility and rights through PDMU and RRS;
- Encourage self-discipline;
- Make sure pupil needs are planned for and responded to strategically and effectively;
- Encourage pupil-parent-teacher relationships through events, meetings and open door policy;

Structures: Roles and Responsibilities

Pastoral Care is the responsibility of all staff, some of whom have specific input.

Class Teacher

The class teacher is a key figure in the Pastoral Care system and should have a detailed knowledge of the needs, emotional development, progress and academic attainment of each pupil in their class.

Safeguarding Team

The Safeguarding Team will take responsibility to deal with any incidents of a safeguarding or Child Protection nature. Please see Safeguarding/Child Protection Policy.

Teachers with Responsibility for Pastoral Care

Those teachers with designated responsibility for Pastoral Care Policy are responsible for Pastoral Policy throughout the school.

Ancillary and Support Staff

Ancillary and support staff play a vital role in promoting pastoral care in Euston Street. It is the responsibility of these staff to be vigilant and to know the Pastoral systems and structures in the school. Such responsibilities include ensuring safety and offering support where needed.

Pupils

The children in Euston Street have an important role to play in the Pastoral Care in our school. They contribute to the pastoral dimension in their class and in the school environment through a positive and caring attitude towards others. The children will also be consulted regarding policy and procedures at class level and through the School Council. Pupils are expected to follow the school 'Golden Rules' at all times (See Behaviour & Citizenship Policy). Rewards and sanctions all centre around the school Golden Rules:

Do be kind and helpful to all	do not be unkind or unhelpful
Do be gentle with everyone	do not hurt other people
Do listen well in school	do not distract or talk over others
Do work hard to improve	do not be deliberately idle in class
Do be honest	do not tell lies
Do look after property	do not damage property

The Principal

The Principal will work with Governors and school staff to ensure the policy and practice is consistent with statutory requirements. The Principal retains overall responsibility for the school and school life, including Pastoral Care.

Board of Governors

The Governors, in acknowledging their responsibility for Pastoral Care will endeavour to support the Principal and staff in an advisory and supportive role.

Loss and Bereavement (See Critical Incident Policy)

Schools and teachers have a significant role to play in the life of the bereaved child. Teachers can help by creating a supportive atmosphere whereby the child feels they can talk and share their story and their feelings and by allowing the child to cry or be angry, and encourage expression of feelings.

Bereavement is also a learning experience for the rest of the class; it can help them to understand that grief is normal and natural.

Teachers will be aware of changes in behaviour and of different ways that children may express their grief.

All children will act differently, and it may be a considerable time before they show the impact of the death.

Staff will be aware of the child's need for privacy, but will not separate them from their peers.

A network of support will be established when required with one member of staff taking on the role of a support person for the child for as long as necessary. Where appropriate, acknowledge the death by some sort of memorial in the school, and remember anniversaries.

School will always endeavour to create links with home when needed for as long as is either necessary or reasonable.

The same supportive and caring atmosphere will be effective for members of staff who experience loss or bereavement.

Pastoral Care for Staff wellbeing

Euston Street staff are caring, compassionate and helpful. Acknowledging that some staff have clear and well defined roles. We seek to promote a supportive team approach to pastoral care and other issues where responsibility is shared by all.

Teaching in school is a multi-role, multi-task profession, therefore it is little wonder that such an occupation is stressful. It is important to recognise that non-teaching staff also have a demanding/stressful role in school and must be considered in 'Pastoral Care for Staff'. To help try and maintain high staff morale and individual self esteem, Euston Street staff will make efforts to respect, value and appreciate each other.

To facilitate well-being and support, Euston Street will endeavour to:

- Provide support/contact in terms of long term illness or social/domestic issues or bereavement.
- Recognise signs of possible stress in colleagues.
- Respond to problems by accessing communication channels e.g. Year Group colleagues, Senior Management Team, Vice Principal and Principal.
- All staff may access Staff Care Service through Aspire which provides confidential support and counselling for staff.
- Provide confidential Return to Work interviews (see Managing Attendance at work Policy).
- Senior Management, Vice Principal and Principal to be aware of roles and responsibilities of all staff and ensure their workload is manageable.
- Support teachers and their assistants who are coping with children who have significant educational needs.
- Endeavour to remember special occasions e.g. the birth of a baby, marriage, 'significant' birthdays etc.
- Organise social events inside school and outside.
- School issues will be appraised and reviewed when necessary. Where appropriate, the Principal will seek and secure In-service training and support as and when necessary.

Staff Development and Training

Aspects of Pastoral Care remain a permanent feature of our School Development Plan and subsequently staff development and training are considered essential to support this. Our on-going development programme helps teachers identify the attitudes, values, skills and knowledge which will enable them to carry out their pastoral roles.

On-going training in interpersonal skills and teaching methods will engage pupils actively in their learning. Training programmes will be organised through:

- On- site courses
- Courses organised by outside agencies
- Cluster groups
- Visits to other leading schools
- Classroom Assistants training programme
- Award bearing and non-award bearing courses provided by other bodies.
